Similar to the Annual Colorado Garden & Home Show, a percentage of the proceeds generated at the Colorado Fall Home Show will further extend grants and scholarships for Colorado's horticulture industry. CGS has awarded a record-breaking amount of more than $600,000 in horticulture grant projects and scholarships for 2010 - 2011 - including a four-year, full-ride scholarship to Colorado State University. Examples include a major grant to the Clyfford Still Museum for development of the park adjacent to the museum at 13th Avenue and Bannock Street in Denver; a community garden and landscaping of residential units at HomeAid Colorado; and native plants donations to Concerts for Kids for a community garden. In all, 44 organizations have received grants and eight scholarships have been distributed. Since the 1970s, CGS has awarded more than $3.5 million for horticultural projects and scholarships throughout the state.

The 2010 Colorado Fall Home Show, is sponsored in association with Comcast®, Bellco Credit Union, and American Furniture Warehouse, and Media Partners 9NEWS, The Denver Post, Colorado Homes & Lifestyles and Official Suppliers Grand Lodge on Peak 7 and TeamDaveLogan.com
